Forespar's new Quik Davit Kit offers a compact and easy-to-install and connect dinghy storage option for most power and sailboat swim platforms or transoms.

Just Connect, Pull and Go

A hinged type davit system, Quik Davit quickly connects your dinghy to the back edge of almost any swim platform or transom allowing it to be tipped up and out of the water for easy storage without towing.

Once connected, Quik Davit also helps stabilize the dinghy while floating for safer loading and unloading and the davit heads can also be quickly removed to eliminate any potential tripping hazard.

Don't Just Take Our Word

Here's a note we received from a recent customer. "For years we've been searching for a simple solution to hauling our dinghy without installing a large crane type hoisting system. Quik Davit is the answer. It is easy to install, use and remove, and now we cruise in confidence knowing our dinghy is safe and accessible."
