Helping Live The Dream

For years, Ryan Levinson dreamed of "crossing oceans". So when he was diagnosed with FSH Muscular Dystrophy, he and his wife Nicole decided it was time to set sail, two afloat, exploring what is possible rather than fearing what is not. With Forespar's help, their 38' sloop "Naoma" is now almost ready to take them to their dream.

Over 300 Builders Use Marelon - Shouldn't You?

Marlon composite marine valves are now used by over 300 of the world's top boat builders. They know that it's better to have non-corrosive valves installed versus the traditional bronze versions that will fail over time.

If you want to upgrade your boat, look for this tag in your local boat store. Marelon is the modern solution to marine valves.
