FORESPAR Hires Global Consumer Products Manager

Redevelopment of Consumer "Boat Care" Products Top Priority

Rancho Santa Margarita, CA - Forespar Products is pleased to announce the hiring of David Levesque as Global Consumer Products Manager to oversee the retail expansion of their Boat Care line of consumer products. A specialist in brand development and retail marketing, Levesque will be specifically tasked with overall management of the entire Boat Care product range including the LanoCote, MareLube, ReFresh and Tea Tree Power brands.

Levesque previously worked with Chafe-Pro[®] products of North Carolina and was an original brand architect for the Kanberra Group out of Buffalo, NY. His focus will be on increasing overall growth and market share of the entire Boat Care line of products including strategic rebranding, POS and POP upgrades and expanding consumer awareness.

According to Levesque, "Forespar has a 50 year history of manufacturing superior marine hardware and I'm honored to be given the keys to their consumable product lineup. We plan to bring the same consumer confidence to this product group that our customers have come to expect through our traditional marine products. We will also focus on bringing these exceptional "care" products to a much broader customer base."

Forespar CEO, Scott Foresman, said, "David's hire fills a need within the organization to refocus our consumable Boat Care lineup of products including branding, packaging and overall marketing. We are very familiar with David's portfolio and feel his skill set is a perfect fit for the future plans of Forespar's consumables".
